

The Conference on Consumer Finance Law Annual Consumer Financial Services Conference

Nov. 19-20, 2015 | Loyola University Chicago School of Law | Chicago, Illinois

About the Conference

This is a two-day conference. We believe this will maximize the use of your time, and focus our Program on only the highest quality of presentations, on the most pertinent issues.

On the first day, we will address issues common to many types of companies, or of general interest.

On the second day, we will have two separate tracks in the morning.

One of the tracks on the morning of the second day will address mortgage lending and servicing issues.

The second track on the morning of the second day will address debt collection and bankruptcy issues.

We will then meet together in the afternoon for final presentations on issues of common interest, including an ethics and professional responsibility presentation.

CLE Credits to Be Provided

CLE credit of 12.0 hours of MCLE, including 1.0 hour of ethics, will be given to Program attendees.

About the Conference on Consumer Finance Law

The Conference on Consumer Finance Law (CCFL) is a non-profit organization founded in 1926 by members of the legal profession and the financial services industry to offer educational services, publications and research relating to consumer financial services law.

A Governing Committee of members establishes policies and directs the activities of the CCFL.

The CCFL publishes the Consumer Finance Law Quarterly Report, a law journal that examines legislation, regulations, court decisions and related legal developments in the consumer financial services industry.

The CCFL sponsors the Frederick Fisher Memorial Program, a debate among industry representatives, consumer advocates and government officials on a topical issue affecting consumer finance. This program is offered annually in conjunction with the American Bar Association Consumer Financial Services Committee at the spring meeting of the Business Law Section.

Conference Facilities

The Conference will be held at Loyola University Chicago School of Law's Power Rogers and Smith Courtroom, with the Track Two breakout sessions in another classroom. Sample photographs of the Conference facilities appear to the left.

Location and Hotel Accommodations

A block of rooms has been reserved at The Whitehall Hotel, 105 E. Delaware Place, Chicago, a 4-star hotel conveniently located only three blocks from the Law School.

The hotel and Conference facilities are located in the heart of Chicago's shopping district, with numerous restaurants and other attractions within walking distance. Renting a car should not be necessary.

The hotel is providing a special rate of $169 plus tax per night for the nights of November 18-20, 2015, plus the following 2 days into the weekend.

Please call the hotel directly at 312-944-6300 to make your reservation and mention "The Conference on Consumer Finance Law," or make your reservation online at <http://www.thewhitehallhotel.com/>. To receive the special rate, you must make your reservation by October 20, 2015.
